ALICE S. POLLARD.

Librarian

To the Citizens of Conway:

A distinctive portrayal of what the Conway Public Library does was presented to the public during the 1941 observance of "Book Week". Oil paintings, water colors, interesting and useful handcrafts, a collection of minerals, Indian Relics from the Saco Region and a series of published stories for children by Gracye White were included in this exhibit. In each instance the work exhibited, was created by the inspiration and help received from the library. Our books and periodicals are so diversified as to character that the demands of practically all patrons can be met.

Acknowledgement is gratefully made to the Conway Woman's Club and the friends of the Library for the money and books that they gave. The New Hampshire Public Library Commission's Bookmobile has loaned groups of books that have been essential to the creditable service that our town libraries have given. To the librarians Miss Alice S. Pollard, Mrs. Gertrude Snow and Mrs. Esther McKeen, the citizens of this town are indebted for an efficient library program.

The exhibits this year included:

1. A Competitive Exhibition of Photographs, sponsored by the Camera Club of the Kennett High School.
2. A Group of Camera Portraits by Dorothy Jarvis

On September 1, October 1 and 2, the New Hampshire Library Association held its annual meeting in Conway. Headquarters for the event were the Presidential Inn and the Conway Public Library. One hundred and fifty librarians and friends of libraries attended the sessions.

As this report is being written a local committee is collecting books for the Victory Book Campaign. Two shipments have gone to our Service Men, one to Fort Constitution, near Portsmouth, and one to the Air Base at Manchester.

These days of world wide strife bring new demands to our libraries. It behooves us to be alert to the needs of the day, and make our Public Libraries a stronghold that will keep invincible our Democracy.

Respectfully submitted,

RUTH A. KENNETT,

Secretary Conway Library Trustees

Report of Superintendent

To the School Board and Citizens of Conway:

All intelligent people know that it is impossible today to plan with certitude for a school year beginning July 1, 1942, and ending June 30, 1943. For a long term of years we have had a sufficiently stable economic situation so that we could plan and carry out our plans with reasonable exactness. The school board is proud of the fact that for a long term of years its estimates and actual expenditures under its budgets have approximated the same totals, and that no deficiency appropriations have been necessary.

With regard to the budget which is presented to the voters this year the situation is entirely different. This budget as prepared is based upon the maintenance of present school facilities at the prices we are paying today for labor, material, and services. It does not contemplate any expansion or special repairs to the school plant beyond what is necessary to avoid essential deterioration. It does not provide for any basic increase in teachers' salaries or increase in the number of teachers. Every economy that has occurred to us has been planned but all added together do not equal the increases due to the cost of labor, materials, fuel, and transportation.

It is helpful to remember the adage warning us not to cross bridges before we come to them. In fact, we do not know what bridges are to be crossed or where or when they will confront us. A Vermont farmer said: "It is just as well not to know too much as to know a lot of things that ain't so." We have therefore worked out the budget on the basis of the present situation and have left emergencies to be met by our ingenuity when we have to face them. A great deal of calamity that we worry about never materializes, and when and if it does, we shall meet it better if we do not blow our fuses in a spasm of premature hysteria.

The net cost per pupil in Kennett high school is $127 against a state median of $109. Subtracting the cost of high school transportation the per pupil cost becomes $114. The elementary per pupil cost in Conway is $60 against a state median of $84. These figures, however, prove absolutely nothing because the number of pupils, the divisor, varies eratically while the fixed costs remain comparatively constant and are determined by the geography and distribution of the school population in different towns. For example — it costs Albany almost as much to run a school for 11 pupils as it would for 33.

Last year Albany did have 11 pupils and the per pupil cost was $218. If there should be 33 pupils in this school next year, the per pupil cost would become $73. The low per pupil cost in Conway elementary schools is due to the fact that we have no small schools.

Many men teachers have joined or soon will join the armed forces of the United States. Some women teachers are going into offices, factories, and other work because of high wages and year-round employment. There is today a shortage of teachers and it may become acute. Some cities and towns are planning definite increases in teachers' salaries to meet the higher cost of living. Some of our Conway teachers will undoubtedly go elsewhere and the qualifications of the replacements and the salaries we will have to pay cannot be predicted. It should be noted that our budget does not provide for any basic increase in our salary scale.

For information the following table is printed. It shows the salaries paid last year throughout New Hampshire and the salaries paid this year in Conway.

	State average	Conway average
Men — high school	$1,905 00	$1,980 00
Women — high school	1,421 00	1,340 00
Men — elementary	1,386 00	1,250 00
Women — elementary	1,114 00	935 00

We anticipate eventually a serious problem with our passenger-car transportation on account of the shortage of tires. Coal prices are higher and fuel may be rationed. School books and scholars' supplies are already ten per cent higher. Schools have a priority for necessary supplies and all teachers are strictly rationing the stock which we have. There is no question about complete coöperation throughout the school system in making every adjustment to a war economy.

The average number of pupils to a teacher is thirty. It is impossible to reduce the number of teachers without creating somewhere a disadvantageous situation. The desirability of separating the seventh and eighth grades in Conway village is recognized although we are convinced that the situation is at present being handled without any essential detriment to the interests of the children. To make the change would mean an increase of $1400 in next year's tax bill.

An article has been placed in the warrant relative to the water supply at the Conway Center School. Twelve or more years ago a 34-foot well was dug and the water pumped to the school. For a considerable number of years this furnished an adequate water supply and the cost of upkeep was not excessive. For the last three years, however, there has been little or no water from this well and water has been brought in by truck at an expense of between $100 and $200 a year. What information we have will be given to the voters, and they will have an opportunity to instruct the school board if it is thought best to do anything about it now. The purpose of the article is to inform the voters of the situation.

Democracy can maintain its continuity only by education of one generation after another in the ways of freedom. Autocracy has attained its peak of power through its complete control of education which sets up a diametrically opposite objective from that of our public schools. There is also a difference in the nature of the control set up by an autocracy and that set up by a democracy. The first step in the Nazi plot was the complete control of education by the state.

There is no hope for the survival of our democratic way of life if the support, control and responsibility for public education originates from any other source than the local units of government. It is true that communities may not always provide as much education as they should, they may not discriminate wisely as to the best types of education, they may at times follow charlatans and false prophets, but the essential quality of democracy is that it has in itself the intelligence and power to correct its errors. This paragraph is written to impress upon all citizens the importance of schools and the greatness of their individual and collective responsibility. It would be a tragedy to win the war and hand over our heritage of freedom to a generation incapable of understanding and preserving the very thing for which we fought the war and made our utmost sacrifice. Some of our dissatisfactions seem trivial in the face of the great task ahead of us.

We wish to pay tribute to a loyal and valued friend of the Conway school, Mr .William R. Carter, who died last fall. He was for many years treasurer of the school district and served on important committees where his sound judgment was invaluable.

The superintendent wishes to thank the school board for their intelligent and sympathetic coöperation at a time when new problems arise almost daily. The teachers are to be commended for their loyalty and willingness to assume more and more responsibility. They will have an ever-increasing share in the war effort and we know they will accept it with courage and devotion.

Respectfully submitted,

JOHN H. FULLER,

Superintendent

Conway, February 16, 1942

Report of Headmaster

Superintendent John H. Fuller:

Agreeable to your recent request, I submit the following brief report of Kennett High School for the past 12 months.

In June we graduated a class of 40 pupils. Five of these graduates are in colleges; three are at high school for post graduate work; fourteen are regularly employed, not at home; three are married; two are at N. Y. A. schools.

In September we registered 225 students, 112 boys and 113 girls, as follows: 52 seniors, 46 juniors, 53 sophomores, and 74 freshmen. Eighteen pupils have left school, 10 boys and eight girls, distributed by class as follows: two seniors, three juniors, three sophomores and 10 freshmen. Four of these are or have been in other schools, one is in the U. S. Navy and the others left because of lack of ability or ambition, or both. With employment as plentiful as it promises to be, many of our boys and girls should be encouraged into early employment, and the demands of school made more exacting.

Pupils are registered by subject matter as follow: English, 219; Science, 117; Mathematics, 115; Shop, 84; Household Arts, 60; Commerce, 129; Social Science, 174; Foreign languages, 99; Industrial Arts, 84; Our shop is overcrowded in the first year classes, and this class must be severely limited, or more instruction provided. Courses in shop, commerce and mathematics are of immediate and vital use to our pupils. The standards should be raised, and pupils encouraged to select these subjects. Pupils with skills in Industrial Arts and Commerce will find ready employment. Pupils should be worked longer hours and at greater speed, and be made to meet more exacting requirements. They should be encouraged to continue their school work as long as they profit by it, and no longer. Definite provision should be made for the education of those who have the ability, either at this school, or at some college or technical school.

At mid-year 55 students were listed as having maintained an average of 85% or more in three or more courses as follows: 22 in three courses; 17 in four courses, 16 in five courses. There were 19 seniors, 15 juniors, 10 sophomores and 11 freshmen in this list. Over this same period 43 pupils failed in 66 courses, as follows: four seniors, one junior, 16 sophomores, 22 freshmen. Many of the lower class students fail because they have no idea of study, nor do their parents accept responsibility for these failures.

We have had 450 cases of absence, 144 cases of tardiness. It is enlightening to observe that these occur among students and families that have least excuse. Pupils who come from a distance and provide their own transportation usually have the best records. Many of us have gotten soft.

The girls in Household Arts have taken part in the following projects:

SEWING: 13 blouses, 5 dresses, 12 dickies, knitting, crocheting, 25 aprons, children's clothes, pajamas, slips, slacks, jerkins, pillow cases, dish towels, Red Cross sewing, 6 skirts.

HOME MANAGEMENT: Cleaning and polishing two pianos; refinishing furniture — chairs, tables; reseating chairs; recovering old trunks; making a quilt (group work); interior decoration; house planning; proper arrangement of furniture; color schemes.

FOODS: Preparing and serving breakfasts, luncheons, several teas; proper etiquette for hostess, and serving.

FAMILY: Budgeting of clothing and food money; Red Cross First Aid.

HOME PROJECTS: Painting and papering a room; knitting — mittens and pocketbooks; sweaters; embroidering, crocheting; dresses and skirts; family washing and mending; preparing the family's meals.

The boys in Industrial Arts have taken part in the following projects:

CLASS PROJECTS: Patterns for small tools: wood and metal vises; bench circular saws; wood turning lathes; grinders. Metal working: machining the above; centers for lathes, job repairing. Foundry practice: moulding patters; melting and pouring parts for castings. General repairs: Setting glass, applying hardware; painting and finishing; installing blackboard; ladder for old gymnasium; basketball backstop; furniture repair and refinish.

INDIVIDUAL PROJECTS: Cedar chest; double decker beds; magazine tables; Colonial '49er beds; writing desks; piano benches; Colonial footstools; projects of plastics; modernistic desk; snow scoops; canoe paddles; gun cabinet; laminated dishes and bowls; smoker's stands; sandwich trays; row boat; floor lamps; book cases; splints for first aid; magazine racks.

We are convinced that the education of boys and girls as carried on in the classroom is far from complete, and we are continuing our efforts to have all take part in extra curricular activities. We have staged two French plays with 18 students participating; a shop play with 12; four class plays with 9 seniors, 9 juniors, 11 sophomores and 13 freshmen taking part. About 50 boys took part in a minstrel show; 35 girls gave a dancing exhibition; 25 girls are playing basketball; 16 girls were on the field hockey squad; 25 boys took part in football; about 30 boys are in basketball.

We have graduates or former students at New Hampshire, Brown, Bowdoin, Boston University, Hobart, Massachusetts Institute of Technology, St. Regis, Northeastern, Syracuse, Westbrook Junior College, Keene and Plymouth Teachers' Colleges. We have nine girls in nurses' training schools, and boys at General Electric Apprentices' School. There are at least 33 boys in the service of the United States Army or Navy, with doubtless others upon whom we have been unable to check.

The Girl Reserves furnished Christmas baskets for needy families, and the Hi-Y club has sponsored the sale of saving stamps. The student body has collected a fund that at present amounts to $23.51 as a contribution to U. S. war effort. The girls have helped in Red Cross work. In fact this has been a pleasant and busy year so far. The school has been so fully occupied that teachers and pupils alike have been overworked by past standards, but we believe that we are only getting ready for still more crowded days, and are glad to play our part.

It has been a continued pleasure to work with you, an understanding and sympathetic superintendent; with the school board, vitally interested in the problems of the town educational programs; and with the teachers, who compose one of the finest, ablest and most loyal groups with which I have ever worked.

Very truly yours,

ELLIS W. McKEEN
